Festival of Cultures International Film Night

Salt

UK 2017

Director – Rob Savage

A demonic presence closes in on a mother and her sick daughter. Their only protection - a ring of Salt.

Corto Ian

Argentina 2018

Director – Abel Goldfarb

The message of “Ian” extends far beyond swings and slides. The wordless plot of “Ian” is a boy struggling to achieve access to something he wants, something other children have readily available to them. People with disabilities regularly struggle for access to public spaces, jobs and social inclusion. The international attention the film is getting proves to Graschinsky that “a more inclusive world is possible.”

Life Smartphone

China 2015

Director - Chenglin Xie

The phenomenon of increasing smartphone addiction can be attributed to today's cutting-edge technology. Staring at glowing screens instead of exploring the vast expanse of life, people are gradually alienating themselves from the richness, depth, and loveliness of life.

The Scared One

France 2016

Director - Romain Lafargue

A young boy (Hadrien Boulme-Alberti) watches his father (Olivier Banse) construct a scarecrow at the front of a field on their farm. The boy is immediately scared of it. Later, in the middle of the night, the boy checks on the scarecrow, only to find the cross where the scarecrow had been mounted – now empty. Then there are noises outside of his room.
